

The 2006 Entrepreneur Invitational is the fourteenth golf tournament to support entrepreneurship at the University of Maryland, benefiting the Lamone Entrepreneur Scholars Program at the Dingman Center for Entrepreneurship at the Robert H. Smith School of Business.

Recognizing the popularity of golf and the benefits of doing business on the golf course, this exclusive event will take place on Tuesday, August 1, 2006 at the beautiful P.B. Dye Golf Club in Ijamsville, Maryland with close proximity to the Greater Baltimore and Washington, D.C. areas. As the name implies, invitations to the Entrepreneur Invitational are extended to presidents and CEO's of high-growth venture businesses, as well as principals of firms that provide services to entrepreneurs.

Benefit

The Dingman Center was founded in 1986 by Rudolph P. Lamone, the former Dean of the Robert H. Smith School of Business. Since its inception as one of the earliest entrepreneurship centers in the country, the top-rated Dingman Center has served as a national catalyst for entrepreneurship and has sought to broaden the educational opportunities for students. Today, the Robert H. Smith
