Welcome back, Smith Undergraduate Students! We hope the first couple of weeks of the semester have gone well for you. SUSA’s Business Week takes place this week with many club and career related events (listed on page 3).

SUSA Business Week events provide excellent opportunities for learning about potential career paths and networking with employers. Business Week culminates with the 2013 Undergraduate Career Fair, the largest undergraduate networking event of the year. If you’re looking for leadership development opportunities and to get involved with SUSA-affiliated clubs, be sure to attend the SUSA First Look Fair on September 17th and 18th from 11:00 am – 3:00 pm.

While a strong GPA is important, recruiters also seek students with a high level of club involvement when seeking top candidates.

On campus interviewing begins on September 23rd. As you prepare for the recruiting season, keep the following in mind:

HireSmith resume approvals may take up to two business days. Plan ahead when uploading your resume to ensure there is enough time to obtain approval and meet the position application deadline.

Please familiarize yourself with the 2013-2014 Office of Career Services Offer Policy, which can be found at HireSmith. Students who renege on job offers and/or are no-shows for interviews jeopardize their HireSmith status and be unable to apply for jobs.

Finally, as some of you know, I am leaving my current position to serve the Smith School of Business in a new capacity as the Associate Director of EMBA Career Coaching, and Programming, effective October 1st.

Ashley Kerkhoff, Assistant Director of OCS Curriculum, will serve as Interim Director until my replacement is hired. We are also interviewing candidates for two additional open positions on the UG Programming Team and hope to fill these positions soon.

It has been my professional privilege to work with all undergraduates, SUSA, and the student clubs over the past three years.

The undergraduate students are the crown jewel of the Robert H. Smith School of Business and I will miss working with you.

During this transition, the OCS will continue to provide the support to the undergraduate population as it has in the past.

Best wishes for a great year. See you at the Career Fair!
